

Carla Ferrándiz-Pulido, MD, PhD, is a dermatologist at Hospital Universitari Vall d'Hebron from Barcelona, Spain, where she is responsible for the management of patients with non-melanoma skin cancer and especially solid organ transplant recipients. She is also Assistant Professor of the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, a board member of the SCOPE group (Skin care in organ transplanted patients Europe), a frequent reviewer for international Dermatology Journals and a member of the editorial board of the Spanish Dermatology Academy Journal, Actas Dermosifiliográficas, and the Continual Medical Education Journal, Piel. She has developed most of her research in the field of dermatooncology with numerous publications in journals with high impact factor.