

Dr. Michael Mühlstädt has studied medicine at Ludwig-Maximilian-University in Munich (Germany), where he has also received his doctoral degree. He pursued his education in dermatology and venereology at the Munich University Hospital and Munich Municipal Hospital under Professor Plewig and Professor Ruzicka, where he also received his board certification. There, between 2007 and 2012, he specialised in dermatosurgery in the unit of Professor Christian Kunte. In 2013, he continued on to Geneva (Switzerland), where he is since heading the Dermatosurgical Unit at the Division of Dermatology and Venereology of Professor Wolf-Henning Boehncke at Geneva University Hospitals (HUG). Dr. Mühlstädt is certified as a micrographic surgeon and trainer by the European Society for Micrographic Surgery (ESMS). He is a member of various national and international societies, such as the EADV, the German (DDG) and the Swiss National Society for Dermatology and Venereology (SGDV) as well as the International (ISDS) and the German Society for Dermatosurgery (DGDC).