

Paul Lorigan is a Professor of Medical Oncology at the University of Manchester and Honorary Consultant Medical Oncologist at the Christie NHS Foundation Trust. He leads a research based clinical practice, specialising in developing new treatments for malignant melanoma. He is chair of the EORTC Melanoma Group and was previously chair of Melanoma Focus, the UK Melanoma Charity.