

Andreas Skaria, MD

Lecturer University of Bern Switzerland

Mohs surgeon

I am a Dermatologist in Switzerland, Vevey. I was practicing Mohs surgery since 1992 at the University of Geneva under Prof JH Saurat. 1998 I started the first private practice in Mohs Surgery in Switzerland.

I was lecturer at the University of Geneva until 2010 and I am lecturer at the University of Bern. I was for several years president of the Swiss working group of dermatologic surgery.

I am past Member of the ASMS (American Society of Mohs Surgery), past Board Member and Member of the ESMS (European Society of Mohs Surgery), Co-founder of the SSMS (Swiss Society of Mohs Surgery). I am an honorary Member of the Swiss and French Society of dermatology. I have published several peer reviewed papers on Dermatologic surgery and I am co author of different chapters and books on Dermatologic surgery and plastic surgery. I am actively participating as speaker at different national and international courses and congresses.