

Nicole Kelleners-Smeets

Nicole is a dermatologist and associate professor at the Maastricht University Medical Centre in the Netherlands. She specialised in dermato-oncology and dermatologic surgery including Mohs surgery. Together with colleagues, she conducted several large randomised trials on non-melanoma skin cancer that have been published in high-impact medical journals.